The WINNER'S will be announced on October 24th

Frank opened up the meeting for questions from the community members:

Member question: As general manager what kind of input do you get from the board? Is there much engagement from the board to communicate to the community?

Frank: The board is very engaged with me; the board is in step with every step of our processes.

Jim Hussey: Frank is primarily our point man with the public, and that is because if we have too many people out conversing with the public things can be miscommunicated.

Frank: I am the conduit in the between the board and the public

Member question: As far as community outreach, how do you feel the water company is doing? A thumbs up or thumbs down?

Frank: I would say it is in the middle, I'm not giving it a thumbs up or down. As far as outreach we have our Dropcountn app, email notifications, we upped our board meetings to every other month instead of once a quarter.

Member question: Do we need to worry about source water protection? (For instance, with development)

Frank: We aren't really worried about source water protection, our wells are very deep out here (The water table is 613 feet deep at the tower, and 500 feet at Basalt/Cinder. We have 100 ft easement around our wells also.

Member question: How many properties are connected to the water system vs not connected to the water system?

Percentage?

Frank: 60-75% are connected to the water system

Frank announced that we do have a board meeting 9/18/24 for those interested in joining

Member question: What is the prognosis for the next rate increase?

Frank: Our plan is to get through the end of year and budget, then we will put together the rate application for the PUC. The PUC will review the application and then we will bring that information to the board to determine if our next rate increase would be in 2025 or 2026.

Member question: How often does the PUC want you to do an application for a rate increase?

Frank: Most companies have moved to every two years due to the economy, inflation and being able to keep up (For instance, backflow meters were under $300.00 in 2013 and they are currently $1216.00 without the meter and node). The PUC wants us to the rate application more often, and that is because it helps with keeping the rate increase lower.
